

Activity 1.2

Instructions:

Brainstorm at least two new potential applications for HRI that are not mentioned in the chapter. For each application, consider the following questions:

- What is the potential application, and what is its purpose?
- What are the potential benefits of this application for users and society?
- What are the potential technical challenges that may arise when implementing this application, and why?
- What are some possible solutions to these technical challenges?

You can share and discuss your opinions in Discord.
